Introduction

Good communication between the school and the home is essential. Children achieve more when schools and parents work together. Parents can help more if they know what the school is trying to achieve, and how they can help. In our school, we aim to have clear and effective communications with parents and the wider community. Effective communications enable us to share our aims and values through keeping parents well informed about school life. This reinforces the importance of the role that parents play in supporting the school in educating their children. The objective of this policy is to ensure that all parents and teachers understand the procedure for communicating issues, which affect the education of the children. Teachers have a need to communicate with parents at regular intervals, and parents are invited to communicate with teachers whenever it may be required.

We communicate with parents through a range of different strategies; face-to-face communication, emails, phone calls, one-to-one meeting, and orison (the school portal). Each year we provide termly reports to parents on each child's progress in the various areas of learning from KG to 12. Also, we send written comments on the students' performance to parents via emails.

The school portal contains an extensive range of information, giving parents a full picture about what kids are doing in our school. We update these regularly with information for the week ahead, important dates and home learning.

Public access documents

The school makes available a range of documentation for parents. We keep a master set in the school office, and we make this available on request. It contains copies of all school policies, code of conduct and general communication documents.

Home-school communications

As well as receiving reports, parents are invited to 'Parent-Teacher meetings' at least three times per year. Parent Orientation evenings and subject workshops on 'how to help your child at home' are conducted early in Term 1. All of these opportunities give parents the chance to celebrate their child's successes and support the child with any areas of development. Parents are able to look at their child's work during these meetings. We encourage parents to contact the school if any issues arise regarding their child's progress or well-being.

The school sends a weekly update of events and announcements and termly newsletters to parents via messages or upload this on the school social media channels. It contains general details of school events and activities.

Where possible, all communication from the school is electronic in the form of email and SMS.

Throughout the year all teachers provide information to the parents via Orison, important dates and trips circulars. We invite parents to support their child's work through a range of suggested activities to be shared with the child at home. The school encourages parents to share any issues about their child at the earliest opportunity. Teachers see parents immediately, if at all possible. Where this is not possible, the parent makes an appointment. Regular Parental workshops are held throughout the year to equip parents with tools to help extend learning at home. If a child is absent from school for two consecutive days, and we have had no indication of the reason, we contact a parent by telephone/message, to find out the reason for the absence.

Social Media

Parents or staff should not send emails or post comments with the intent of scaring, hurting, defaming or intimidating someone else. Parents and staff are reminded that in the UAE there are extreme consequences for online defamation of character of person or organization.
